GREENE BRINGS R. C. MESSAGE

National Speaker Declares U. S. Must Be on Guard CIVILIZATION DEFECTIVE

Illiteracy Republic's Greatest Bugaboo, He Declares

A rousing, dynamic message of national and individual responsibility founded on the precept, "I am my brother's keeper," was brought to Port Arthur last night by a man in the limelight of six nations.

Dr. P. E. Greene of Washington, D. C., director of the speakers bureau of the American Red Cross and internationally known lecturer, at 8 o'clock last night at Franklin auditorium, stringently pointed out that the outposts of a defective civilization need guarding, explaining the status of the Red Cross as it now exists and emphasized the fact that God has blessed the people of this country and made them their brothers' keepers.

500 Hear Address
Approximately five hundred people heard the lecture, the largest crowd, Dr. Greene said, which has attended any of his lectures since he left Washington, D. C., before coming south.

"The hardest thing in the world is to get people to take care of human beings," Doctor Greene said. "People do not die in this world because God decrees that their time has come, but die because of a defective civilization. Many people think that we die when God gets ready for us to die and that it is not our duty to look after human beings but after animals and things in the world which profit us. This is a curious hangover of old-time theology," he declared.

"Thousands die each year," he said, "from preventable diseases which no business to die. More than a million babies die each year, sixty-five per cent of whom should not have died. The government spends per year 27 cents a person for the protection of the life of its people."

"The Red Cross is organized to make health 'catching' and not disease," he said.

Nabors Says K. C. S. Falsified at-Austin Rail Board Hearing

"Absolute contradiction to some of the testimony given at the Duff line hearing by the Texarkana and Fort Smith railway regarding the completion and use of the loop track in and around Port Arthur was found on a recent inspection of railway and terminal facilities at Port Arthur, Beaumont and Orange."

"This is the word from W. A. Nabors, Texas railroad commissioner, upon his return to Austin from a tour of inspection made in Port Arthur, Beaumont and Orange recently. The 'So-Called Loop'."

"The so-called loop track of the T. and F. S. railroad in and around Port Arthur was not entirely finished, and a large part of it had been laid on the ground within the last two weeks, or since the hearing when the railroad resisted the application of the Waco, Beaumont, Trinity and Sabine railroad to extend from Livingston to Port Arthur," Commissioner Nabors said.

Facilities Inadequate
"Rail and port facilities were examined on the trip to Port Arthur, and they were inadequate in some respects, the railroads not having provided all they should," according to Commissioner Nabors.

Study also was made by Nabors on his inspection trip to Port Arthur of the proposition that the industries receive $1 per car for completing the switching into their own plants of cars moved to entrances by regular carriers. The commission has pending an application for the industries to receive this $1 per car switching charge, which it is alleged does not cover the switching cost, but the industries express satisfaction with it.

PIER CONTRACT SIMMERS TO 2

Choice Narrows to Dunstan And Fitz-Gerald

DELAY IS PROBABLE

Y.M.B.L. Seeks Rental Diverted to Pier Fund

Two of the bids submitted yesterday in city commission on Pleasure Pier are being considered today by commissioners and members of the park board. It was learned this morning. These are the bids submitted by Mayor C. H. Fitz-Gerald and that of C. J. Dunstan, former manager of the pier.

Final decision as to which of these two will likely be granted the pier contract will probably result from the executive session of the commission and park board which was in conference at 1:30 o'clock today.

No Statement by City
No announcements as to the possible outcome of bidding on pier concessions was made today by either members of the commission or the park board, but from an authoritative source of information, it was learned that either Mayor Fitz-Gerald's bid, which contained a yearly rental offer of $4,500, or Dunstan's bid, which offered a rental of $4,500 per year, were being strongly considered by the joint sessions of commissioners and park board members.

A committee composed of Perry Pace, Alfred Charles Reichle, Ed Lehmann and George Carter were told to go before the executive session of commissioners and park board officials this afternoon to urge that all funds derived from Pleasure Pier operation be diverted back into a special pier fund. This committee represents the Young Men's Business League of Port Arthur, which organization has taken an active interest in the leasing of the pier.

Special Pier Fund Sought
The proposition of diverting pier funds back into a special pier fund and of not phoning money derived from that source of revenue into the city's general fund, was thoroughly discussed by commissioners and members of the park board when first bids were submitted some time ago, and at that time, Mayor J. P. Logan said he thought it would be impossible to do that legally.

Today at the New Lakeview hotel, during the regular session of the Young Men's Business League, President R. Lyle reported, in a discussion of pier disposal, that he had been informed by city Attorney Vernon J. Wisner that all funds derived from the pier could be placed in a special pier fund for pier maintenance and improvement of the pier.

It will be the object of the committee in conference with commissioners and park board members this afternoon to secure such a step.

DROWNED MAN'S BODY NOT FOUND

Fear Dredge Apparatus May Have Buried It

Speech to The News
April 29.—The body of Julius Lundenburg, 43, third engineer on the United Dredging company's dredge Tampa, who drowned in the intra-coastal canal about 5 a. m. Sunday two miles east of Orange, has not been recovered at a late hour today.

Lundenburg was seen to fall over the side of the dredge a few minutes after coming up from below to cool off and it is feared that his body was sucked into the hydraulic machinery, ground to pieces and cast over into the spoil bank.

C. H. Lundenburg, 18, son of the drowned engineer, and about eight other members of the dredge crew, arrived in Orange on a launch from the dredge, a number of the men declaring they had quit work on the dredge because so little effort had been made to recover Lundenburg's body.

The son of the drowned man left for Galveston, where his mother and small brother, 5 years of age, reside.

French Airman, Alone, Outflies Both the British and Americans

Winging Way to Japan Without Spare Parts, Landing Arrangements Or Supplies

PARIS, April 29.—France is jubilant over the brilliant flying stunt of Lieutenant Pelletier D'Oisy, who already has outflown both the British and American round the world flyers, having left Paris last Thursday.

After fighting terrible storms in the Persian Gulf and experiencing untold difficulties in piloting his big Breguet plane over the Mesopotamian deserts, the gallant French airman has arrived at Bender Abbas on the Persian gulf.

Acclaimed As Greatest Flight
It is only a few hundred miles from Major MacArthur, French round the world flyer whose plane is damaged and in the sea desert.

A movement has been started to finance continuation of his flight around the world if he reaches Tokyo successfully.

French air experts are hailing D'Oisy's flight as in many respects the greatest feat in the history of aviation. He acts as his navigator, flying uncharted territories while his mechanic, Sleep, sleeps in the fuel-age.

Americans Under Handicap
When D'Oisy lands in the night-time he sleeps and the mechanic overhauls the motor and inspects the plane.

Lieutenant Oisy has had a remarkable career. He started flying at the age of 11. He was one of the few who flew from 1914 throughout the war and was an "ace" having shot down more than five Germans.

Large newspaper print compares the time tables showing the Americans have averaged 127 kilometers a day since they started, the British 72 and D'Oisy 1,650.

CAUSE OF BLAST STILL UNKNOWN

Trapped Men Buried Under Tons of Earth

GAS FILLS WORKINGS

Brentwood, West Virginia, Prostrated by Disaster

By United Press
BENWOOD, West Va., April 29.—No hope was held out today for rescue alive of the 110 miners entombed in the Benwood Mill Mine of the Wheeling Steel Corporation 24 hours ago by a terrific explosion that tore down mine supports, letting loose tons of earth on the trapped men.

Officials of the mine admitted that it would be a miracle should any miner be rescued alive.

Thirty Unaccounted For
Eighty crushed and burned bodies were brought to the surface today from the workings.

A small army of expert rescue workers, recruited from the bureau of mine cars in the vicinity of Benwood, were still groping their way through the caverns of the earth today searching for the 9 men unaccounted for.

While the rescue squads worked untiringly the entire population of Benwood—4,772 men, women and children—huddled on a muddy hillside outside the Benwood mine gate, hoping against hope as the hours passed by that their loved ones might have escaped death.

Cause of Blast Not Known
The cause of the explosion is still undetermined. Officials of the steel company have refused any information and as yet they do not know the exact number of men who entered the mine Monday morning.

At least 37 women were widowed and 270 children were made fatherless by the disaster, according to Mayor John Cox of Benwood, who is directing relief measures for families left destitute.

Electrical Inspector For Port Arthur Proposed

Port Arthur may employ an electrical inspector at an early date.

This was brought out at a meeting in commission meeting today when a committee representing the Port Arthur Labor Trades Council appeared before commissioners with the request that such an office be created to prohibit petty violations of city ordinances and insure greater protection and accuracy in the installation of electrical effects.

From H. B. Pagni, who has charge of gas, plumbing and electrical inspection combined at present, it was learned by the commissioners that the inspector's task covers too wide a field, and that a special inspector for electrical installations should be employed.

The commission instructed the city engineer, J. A. Herpin, to take the matter up with City Attorney Vernon J. Wisner, looking to the possible employment of such an inspector. Herpin expressed the opinion that an electrical inspector could be employed for about $200 per month.

U. S. PLANS TO BAN ALL JAPS

Committees Consider Coolidge's Compromise Plan

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The United States is prepared to propose to Japan the negotiation of a new agreement providing for more severe restriction or total exclusion of Japanese immigration to this country if Congress accepts President Coolidge's compromise proposal on this question, it was learned today.

Japan is ready to enter into a new agreement or to revise the present gentlemen's agreement whereby she voluntarily excludes all labor immigration, with exception of parents, wives, children under 20, of Japanese already in the United States, it was stated in high Japanese quarters.

In the meantime the conference committees of the senate and house immigration bills today were considering President Coolidge's compromise plan—finally retailed by which the Japanese exclusion feature of the measure would be maintained but a provision inherited to postpone at a future date the time when exclusion would be applied to Japan.

Such a postponement President Coolidge is understood to believe would give Secretary of State Hughes an opportunity to negotiate the new immigration agreement.

A treaty of this nature if ratified by the senate would supersede the exclusion feature in the present bill. It is believed that these demanding arrangements could be satisfied by an arrangement of this character. The law would provide for exclusion which would go into effect eventually if no other agreement superseded it. Because of the necessity of satisfying congress and the western states, it is believed that a new treaty with Japan would have to be based on the principle of exclusion.

French proverb that there is no need to prove the existence of light. The Red Cross has been characterized as the greatest humanitarian organization in the world which reached its pinnacle during the time when the world was swept by war. Devotion to this country reached its highest point, when the United States went into the world war, asking, claiming and seeking nothing. But at the first touch of materialism following the war it crumbled. This however, is true after every war, he said.

The Red Cross was represented in this country in Washington and at a few scattered chapters in other parts of the country. There were less than 50,000 members in 1918. In 1923 the number had increased to between twenty-two and twenty-three million members. The Junior Red Cross had a membership of between nine and ten million boys and girls. Eight million American women had taken raw material and were converting it into articles which were worth millions of dollars. More than nineteen million devoted women took up nursing the wounded and sick.

Dr. Greene quoted the theme of a song, "In the war's red cross, stands the Red Cross nurse, the Rose of No Man's Land," which trembled on the lips of the nation during the world war.

When the United States was in combat the American people gave $400,000,000 to the Red Cross. In the midst of all of the charges and counter-charges which were flung after the war was over, the Red Cross came out with a clean balance sheet and without a whisper of suspicion directed toward it.

A tremendous machine for humanity. "When the war was over here was a tremendous machine, ready for action and going at top speed until Christmas, 1918. It did not realize how much there was to be done. However, 13 or 14 million people enrolled for another year. Now the membership is 4,000,000.

"This appears small compared with the number enrolled during the war, but it is an organization bound together with the purpose of doing good. It would be well to have a membership of 5,000,000.

"The question now is, why is the Red Cross still going on? It is still functioning as a piece of machinery, and since the war is over why not let it fall?

"The Red Cross is still going on because it could not stop if it would and it would not stop if it could. It is an integral part of the government of the United States as it was created by Congress and its funds are in the treasury department of the United States. Where the United States flag does not go, the Red Cross of this country does not go. It does not go into Soviet Russia, and it crossed the Rio Grande only when the Mexican government in that country was recognized."

"The horrible, damnable thing is that after all of our vainglory and civilization that we cannot save ourselves from the monster war," Dr. Greene said.

PEOPLE DON'T ADMIRE ROUGH, PIMPLY SKIN

Before you can impress some one of the opposite sex enough to get them to share the happy state of love with you, you certainly must keep your appearance pleasing and attractive. Pimples, blotches, eczema, skin seems ten times worse to strangers and new acquaintances. And even husbands, wives, parents and kin feel sorry for loved ones who suffer from such skin diseases.

The way to get rid of all these drawbacks to affection and devotion from dear ones is to use Black and White Ointment, and Soap. Like thousands of people are doing. They are economically priced, in liberal packages. The 3 1/2 size Black and White Ointment contains three times as much as the 2 1/2 size. All dealers have both the Ointment and the Soap. Adv.

Is a Bad Back Wearing You Out?

Do you rise in the morning limp and stiff? Drag through the day with your back a dull, unceasing ache? Evening and you "all played out"? Look, then, to your kidneys. Weak kidneys cause just such troubles and one is likely to have headaches, too, with dizziness and annoying kidney irregularities. Don't risk neglect! Help your weakened kidneys with a stimulant diuretic. Use Doan's Pills—the remedy Port Arthur people recommend. Ask your neighbor!

Here's a Port Arthur Case: J. H. Derrough, carpenter, 2025 13th St., says: "Sharp catches came through the small of my back when I stooped and mowed the lawns in my back were lame and sore. Sometimes the pains caught me across my kidneys when I sat down. My kidneys ached too frequently. Doan's Pills cured me of backache and regulated my kidneys."—Adv.

Thrift Essays Written for First National Bank by Pupils of Port Arthur Public Schools

Our ability to do things is the foundation of our success. We save our dollars and they can buy many important things. There are very many ways by which we can be thrifty. A thrifty person is very prompt in his expenditures. He will conserve energy by saving time. He will plan his work in order to do the greatest amount in the shortest time possible.

If we are industrious when we are young we shall have comfort when we are old. We are to spend money for things we need, and not for things we do not need. People do not work for candy or other foolish things. People work for money and a living.

All these things make thrift and thrift makes success and character. There are large elements along the road to success.

"I have direct and personal knowledge of so many cases where TANLAC has restored health and strength and helped weak, run-down people to get on their feet that I know it to be an unusual medicine," is the emphatic manner in which Mrs. M. E. Chappelle, Blue Mount and Thomas Ave., Wauwatosa, Wis., a practical nurse of fifteen years' experience, pays tribute to the famous treatment.

"Time and again I have urged TANLAC's use and it always brings the most gratifying results. My own mother, now eighty years old, took TANLAC five years ago, and it has been her standby ever since. Nothing helps her as TANLAC does and she is as strong an advocate of the medicine as I am. Only recently, mother became generally run-down. Her stomach was disordered, her appetite utterly failing her, and she came near having a nervous breakdown. ## Help, Wales Thrown from Romance

It seems that the Prince of Wales can't even stick to a romance rumor. Just as he was being pictured taking the matrimonial hurdles with the lovely 15-year-old Princess Helena of Romania, he jumps the traces and broke his engagement—or rather, it was given out that these never had been an engagement. However, the rumor persists that the prince has fallen again—this time, in love.

DENIES HINT HE FAVORED FORD

Cites Message to Congress December 6 in Proof

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—President Coolidge today issued a formal denial that he had ever said he "was trying to deliver Muscle Shoals to Henry Ford or any one else."

Mr. Coolidge was quoted in a telegram read in the senate agriculture committee by Senator Norris as saying that he hoped Ford would not do or say anything that "would make it difficult to deliver Muscle Shoals to him, as I am trying to do."

The president's statement follows: "My position on Muscle Shoals is fully stated in my message to the congress, delivered December 6 where I said:

Sale Benefit to Farmers

"The government is undertaking to develop a great water power project known as Muscle Shoals on which it has expended many million dollars. The work is still going on. Subject to the right to retake in time of war, I recommend that this property with a location for auxiliary steam plant and right of way, be sold. This would end the present burden of expense and should return to the treasury the largest price possible to secure."

While the price is an important element, there is another consideration even more compelling—the agriculture of the nation needs a greater supply and lower cost of fertilizer. This is now imported in large quantities. The best information I can secure indicates that present methods of power production would not be able profitably to meet this need, which these imports can be sold. To obtain a supply from its water power would require long and costly experimentation to perfect a process for production. Otherwise our purpose would fail completely. It seems desirable, therefore, in order to protect and promote the public welfare to have adequate covenants that such

The following was issued through the local branch of the United States hydrographic office:

The sunken wreck of the steamer Takafuku Maru lies in a north-south direction, about four miles, 171 degrees from Dunkness High light-house.

Note.—The notation of "(P. A.)" is to be inserted against this wreck on the charts.

Approximate position latitude 30 degrees 54 minutes N., longitude 0 degree 50 minutes E.

A green spherical light buoy, showing a flashing green light every 5 seconds, has been established about 150 yards southward of the above wreck.

A wreck marking light vessel showing the regulation green light by day and green light by night will, when possible, mark the southerly side of the above wreck. A light buoy showing a flashing white light, peaking 3 seconds, thus, flash 0.5 second, pulse 2.5 seconds, has been established in approximately latitude 34 degrees 22 minutes, 24 seconds N., longitude 11 degrees 58 seconds E., to mark the site of the diphium light "Bosland N." which was destroyed by ice. The three star buoy formerly located in the above position has been discontinued. The following information has been received concerning shoals in the approach to Star Ford.

A shoal with a least depth of four fathoms (7.3 meters) lies eastward of Sunboma. As shown, in latitude 61 degrees 33 minutes N., longitude four degrees 43 minutes 54 seconds E.

Note.—A depth of four and one-half fathoms (8.2 meters) is to be substituted for the seven fathom depth, shown on Aegæus, close northward of the above position on E. A. Chart 3101.

Cornelia Vanderbilt, Heiress To 50 Millions Weds Briton

Distinguished Diplomats Attend Smart Asheville, N. C. Function Linking the Names of 2 Aristocracies

By United Press.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., April 23.—Two of the oldest families in the United States and Great Britain were united here today with the marriage of John Francis Cecil and Miss Cornelia Vanderbilt.

Cecil announced his resignation from the British diplomatic service before the ceremony and after a honeymoon in Europe, will return here to help his bride in administering her vast estates.

An assemblage of distinguished diplomats, representing a score of foreign countries, were present at the ceremony in All Souls Episcopal church. Bishop J. M. Horner, Rev. A. M. Bennett and Rev. George Granville Merrill officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her mother, Mrs. Edith Vanderbilt, widow of George W. Vanderbilt and owner of the vast estates at Biltmore.

The groom was attended by Hugh Attenant, an undersecretary of the British embassy.

Relatives and friends of the bride formed the bridal party.

After the ceremony, more than 1,000 people attended a reception at Biltmore house. Hundreds of employees and tenants of the estate were included in this number.

The couple intend to return here and make their home at the Biltmore, in the early summer.

Miss Vanderbilt, on her paternal side, comes from a distinguished lineage and through her, father she inherits an estate of approximately $50,000,000.

On her mother's side, she traces her ancestry back through the D. Le-ror Dressers, of Newport, R. I.

The groom, while bringing in neither a title nor great wealth, is a son of Lord William Cecil, whose family has been prominent since the time of Queen Elizabeth. He is distantly related to the present Lord Lords Salisbury and Lord Robert Cecil, prominent in British politics.

Sir Hans Howard, British ambassador to Washington, was one of the distinguished guests who came here to attend the ceremony.

Decision on Merits

"Such a solution will involve complicated negotiations and there is no authority for that purpose. I, therefore, recommend that the congress appoint a small joint committee to consider offers, conduct negotiations and report definite recommendations."

"From the position of the message I have never departed. I have not said I was trying to deliver Muscle Shoals to Mr. Ford or anyone else. I do not think his favor is for sale. I wanted him to have his proposal fairly considered just as I wanted any other proposals fairly considered. My mind was made up when Mr. Ford called on me on December 3 and at that time my message was already written, printed and had been sent to the press for five days. My messages went out on November 25, five days before Mr. Ford came to see me. I expected there would be other bids and wanted all of them considered on their merits."

"This question ought to be decided on its merits. I have no other method of dealing with it. The congress should have none."

OHIO FAVORS COOLIDGE; COX

Light Vote Underway in Key State Primary

By United Press.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 23.—A light vote was underway in Ohio's primary today when voters went to the polls to indicate their preference of republican and democratic nominees for president.

Interest in the primary centered on the contest between former Governor James M. Cox and former Secretary of the Treasury William G. McAdoo, on the democratic ballot, with Cox, a native son, having the edge.

President Coolidge was picked to win over his opponent, Hiram Johnson, California senator, by handsome majorities in all principal counties of the state where contests have been waged.

Aside from the presidential candidates, there was interest in the fate of Harry M. Daugherty, ousted attorney general and a Coolidge delegate. Daugherty was bitterly fought all during the campaign by Johnson supporters by State Senator George Bender.

The democratic leaders supporting Governor Cox fought to bring out a clinic at the Red Cross hut, Dallas and Fifth street, tomorrow afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock.

SOUTH RUINED, HE SAYS, IF FORD GETS SHOALS

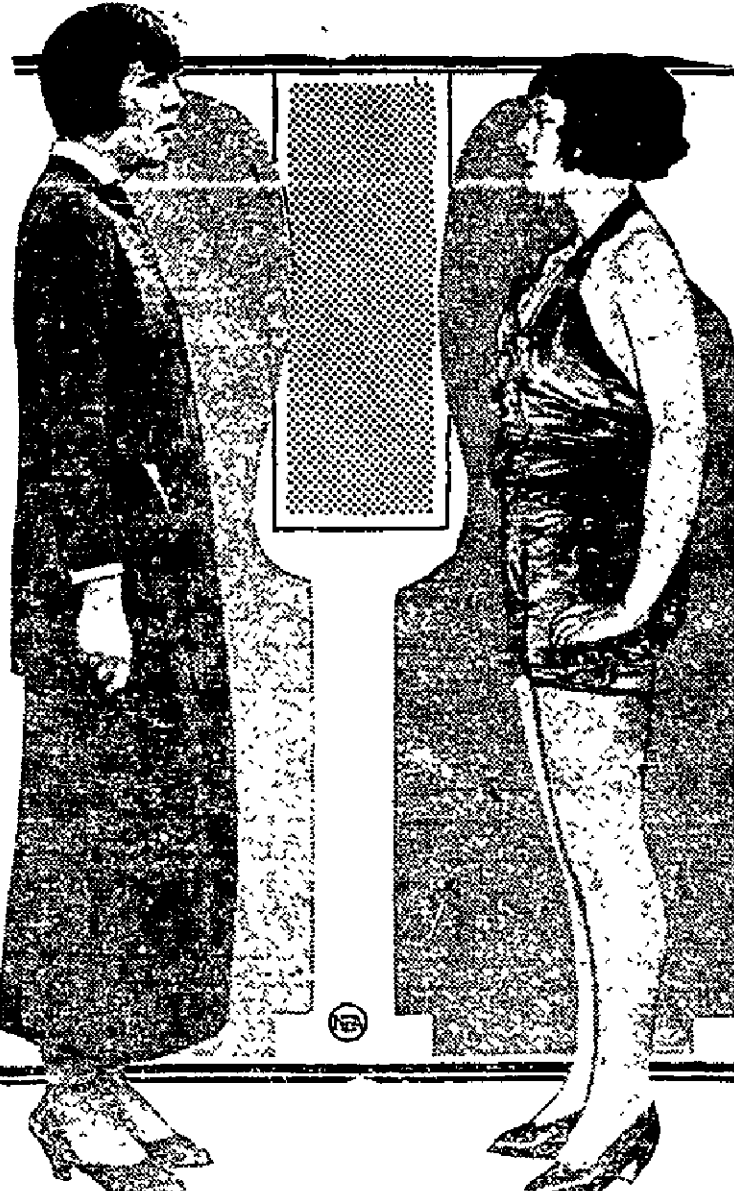

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Agriculture and industry in the south would be "hamestrung" if Henry Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals was accepted, Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania told the senate agriculture committee today.

Pinchot said Muscle Shoals "is the key to the farm and industrial situation in the south" and should not be turned over to Ford because "his offer guarantees nothing."

In 1920 there were 57,000 passenger automobiles made in this country. Last year the total was about 2,000,000.

By HORTENSE SAUNDERS

The "New Staff Writer" has succeeded in the "Happenings" that, secondly, snatched the honors from the "Perfect 38."

Women will be girls, it seems. The well-developed figure with its generous curves and Venus proportions that our fathers worshiped is quite out of the running, according to New Yorkers, who select and groom the girls for the Ziegfeld Follies. He was called in as a counselor extraordinary to select half a dozen eligible from several hundred girls who applied for positions as models for a fashion show to be held in New York in May.

And let me assure you, the boyish figure has the preference with him. "The American" adores slenderness," he explained. He himself is a perfectly husky looking individual who doesn't count his own calories, unless I'm rightly mistaken.

"The Follies girls of next season will all be 32's. It is the ideal size for the modern costumes and the tendency in costumes reflects the taste in femininity."

Roberta Haynes of Brooklyn was selected by him as one of the most possible 32's although she is not of feminine look, in the least. Her chest measure is a gift of the gods and not the result of dieting or banting.

From the beauty contest, I went to consult Maria Feira, the Italian girl, who is winning New York with her feats of strength, and who, in spite of the fact that she can lift elephants and tie bow knots out of iron bars, is a most attractive looking woman, with no bulging muscles or overdeveloped areas.

She is five feet five inches tall, weighs 120 pounds and has a bust measure of 38 inches—exactly the measurement of her hips. When I asked her what she thought of the feminine 32, she laughed.

"A 32 isn't a woman—it's a child," she said. "If a fully matured girl is not more than 32 inches through her shoulders, she is either sick or carries herself badly. She can have no strength, vitality, endurance, and to me, beauty, unless she has a normal development."

"The 32 would be very unpopular in Europe, because there they expect a woman to be a woman—not an underdeveloped girl. You can't produce healthy, splendid children from a race of 32's," she assured me.

Be that as it may, for the time, at least, Anitopolis, his gone out of style—you must be accordingly.

SMITH AS FREE LANCE PROBABLE

Secret Caucuses Feature Pre-Convention Campaign

NEW YORK, April 29.—Governor Al Smith apparently will be to go before the democratic national convention under the banner of a free lance, rather than a boss picked candidate for the presidential nomination. This about all that can be drawn thus far from the highly secret sessions held during the last 24 hours behind closed doors by state and national democratic leaders here discussing Smith's pre-convention campaign.

Brennan Free of Pledge?
It was not particularly surprising therefore when George Brennan, sachem of Illinois democracy, announced after Monday's conferences that he was returning to Chicago free from any pledge on behalf of the Illinois delegation to Smith or any other candidate. This was followed by further announcement by Smith that he had called off his prospective visit to Thomas Taggart, Indiana democratic chieftain, at French Lick Springs. It will be recalled that Brennan, Taggart and Murphy have been rumored for weeks as agreed in advance on the matter of putting Smith over as the party standard bearer in June.

It even has been suggested that Brennan following the death of Charles F. Murphy would be named manager for the Smith campaign. This latter rumor has been definitely smothered by Brennan himself. Brennan's main job is keeping Illinois democrats in power.

Hearst Aids Brennan

William Randolph Hearst through such influence as his papers wield in Chicago, has assisted Brennan in this work. Hearst doesn't wish to see Smith nominated and Brennan doesn't wish to offend Hearst—so it is easy to realize why Brennan would not be named manager for the nomination and also why Smith would prefer not to have any open pledge to Brennan support such as might stir up acrid intra party conflict before the convention.

It appears likely now that while Smith will have a pre-convention manager, this man will be more the chairman of the committee which probably will be national in scope, selected to run his campaign.

Election "Superstition"

Norman E. Mack, Buffalo, state national committeeman told delegates he won't be the manager and intimates the committee idea holds high favor.

If Smith actually wishes to enter the convention as a free lance it is likely that he is guided by two major factors—the fact that a boss picked democratic nominee never has been elected president on the democratic ticket and second—that his candidacy is certain to strike sharp shoals in religion and prohibition scores, both of which would be accentuated were he openly handicapped in advance by the "big three" delegations—Illinois, Indiana and New York.

M. E. Ministers for Peace But Not Non-Resistance

CHICAGO, April 29.—Methodist ministers of Chicago are for peace but not for the peace of non resistance.

In the Chicago labor temple yesterday ministers voted to maintain the Methodist general conference in Springfield, Mass., May 1, to go on record against the things that make for war.

Non resistance, however, has no place in the Methodist church, Dr. F. D. Stone, superintendent of the western district of the church said.

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRES-COTT TO LESLIE PRES-COTT, CARE OF THE SECRET DRAWER. CONTINUED

It was with mixed emotions that I drove home. I was not quite sure, little Marquise, first where I was wrong in my estimate of what was due a wife, and where Sally was right.

Of course I knew that Sally Atherton cared very little for Sam. I knew that she had come to work for Jack because she wanted to get away from him. Yet it seemed to me that something out of the years they had spent together would be hers still. It seemed to me that if my employer had not mentioned the great trouble—for even if it were not a great grief, it must have been through. I would have felt that he was lacking in sympathy.

I don't believe I'd ever make a business woman, I said to myself. I don't believe I have enough of the masculine turn of mind. Little things mean so much to me. I dream and raise beautiful pictures, and then the hurt of it all when they crumble before reality!

Ever since I got that beautiful letter from Jack, little Marquise, I have been thinking of him. I presume, as something not quite human, I longed for him. I wanted his arms about me. I wanted the kisses he spoke about to close my eyes that I might keep within their lowered lids the happiness that threatened to overflow.

That letter, little Marquise, was one of the very infrequent things that I have received lately. I think that I had not received it. I should not have come to the train in answer to the suggestion of that wire. But having received it, of course I expected to find not a man, but a lover; and really, little Marquise, you who have had a great lover know that there is a wonderful difference.

It is very hard, after you have been living in the effluvia of emotion, to come back to earth with a bang. I don't quite understand how men can do it. They seem to like parachute drops, and they gaily smile, even if they reach terra firma with a bump, and run away to their everyday affairs seemingly to think that if they wish it, they can make another balloon ascension into the rare emotional ether.

Perhaps that's where we women

THIS WOMAN'S MARVELLOUS RECOVERY

All Due to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
Truman, Minn.—"I was badly run-down and had pains in my side and back; sometimes I couldn't hardly move around in my house. My husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and after taking it I was so much better that I could do all my work again. I do my housework, have a garden, raise chickens, and in harvest time I worked in the field and helped pick corn. Sometimes I do chores and milk. I took the Vegetable Compound before and after my four-months-old baby was born, and it has always helped me wonderfully. I believe there is no better medicine made for women, and I hope every woman will give it a fair trial."

Women suffering from troubles so common to their sex should give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

HELP FOR THE MAN WHO WANTS TO BUILD

HOW TO BUILD YOUR HOME WALLS RIGHT

By the Architects' Small House Service Bureau of the United States, Inc.

In foundations we use stone, concrete—poured or in blocks—tile block and brick, all depending on which material can be most easily obtained, and that means which material is the least expensive and best suited to the conditions of the soil. For example, we would not use a tile or brick wall where there was an actual head of water to be walled off or even where the subsoil was exceedingly wet. It is easier to waterproof a poured concrete foundation wall than it is the other types, but if you live in a country where the underlying soil is fairly dry and where well burned bricks or the blocks are to be had at less cost than other materials, you are perfectly justified in using them in foundations.

Be Generous With Cement
If you live where concrete is inexpensive, where there is plenty of gravel and sand, concrete would then be used and the selection of concrete blocks or a poured concrete wall probably would be simply a matter of which one would cost the least. If you have a concrete wall, just remember that a bag of cement has a terrific power. Be generous with it. Use clean sand and gravel or broken rock and no more water than is necessary and use plenty of cement.

These walls in the foundation are not different in any real way from the walls that were built by the forefathers, but when we get up above grade, we often work out some stunts in wall building that are absolutely innovations of our present day. Here is where the walls of wood and combinations of brick, cement and stone with wood come into their own.

We have perfected walls of masonry to get warmth, strength, durability—let us consider walls above grade.

Brace Wooden Walls
Wooden walls are often thought of as being only temporary, but they need not be so by any means. Assuming that they are so that they will not rot, a wooden wall will stand up a shorter or longer time, depending upon how much bracing it has. If it does not have any bracing the wall will simply come into their own. We have perfected walls of masonry to get warmth, strength, durability—let us consider walls above grade.

SQUARE PLAN—NO WASTE—TRUE ECONOMY

Copyright, 1924—Architects' Small House Service Bureau.

Plan No. 6A12.

A FULL two story type home of Colonial adaptation, wood frame on masonry foundations, with brick base carried up two feet; first story wide siding; second story stucco or matched boarding; brick veneer may be used for first story if desired; roof shingled.

Here is a straight forward, balanced, dignified design, displaying a pleasing and harmonious variety in wall treatment, obtained by the clever use of different materials. The simple hipped roof adds to the charm of the composition with a minimum of expense.

There are six main rooms, bathroom and six closets, full basement and large open fireplace. Because the house is practically square, it should be economical to build. It can be placed on a lot from 25 to 40 feet in width.

The cost to build this house, including heating, plumbing, lighting, painting, ready to live in, but.

not including wall decorations, should range between $6,500 and $7,500. In certain localities where costs are high, the highest figure quoted would be too low. In other localities the lowest figure would be more than sufficient. The range of $1,000 is given to cover differences in the way the house is built and how thoroughly it is equipped and completed.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The plans for small homes are furnished by the Regional Bureaus of the Architects' Small House Service Bureau of the United States, Inc., an organization made up of the representative practicing architects from leading architectural offices throughout the United States. This bureau is controlled by the American Institute of Architects, and has the endorsement of the Department of Commerce, United States government. It is practically a non-profit making public service, and has as its purpose the furnishing of a very complete and dependable small house plan service at modest cost. For information regarding the blue prints and specifications, address the Home Building Editor of this paper. The United States Bureau maintains an information department to answer home builders' questions at no charge. Enclose stamped envelope.

WHAT YOU MAY WANT TO KNOW ABOUT BUILDING

Questions addressed to the paper will be answered by the Architects' Small House Service Bureau of the United States, Inc., controlled by the American Institute of Architects and Inducted by the department of commerce, United States government. Enclose self-addressed, stamped envelope for reply.

Q—What is a fireplace damper?

A—The connection between the fireplace and the flue is called the throat. This throat may be of masonry or of metal. If of metal, we can equip the throat with a hinged metal plate called the damper. This damper may be moved so as to adjust the size of the throat to conditions of the fire.

Q—What is the difference between a septic tank and a cess pool?

A—A septic tank is a scientific device made of two tight tanks suitable connected and arranged so that sewage deposited therein will be digested and made unobnoxious when discharged. A cess pool is simply a pit which may or may not be open at the bottom. It is a source of contamination and may be very dangerous.

Q—The walks we put in last month when the weather was bad were not protected properly, and as a result have crumbled and gone to pieces. I paid $75 for the job. What can I do?

A—Get the contractor to replace them. If he will not do so you may threaten suit, though the amount involved is rather small.

Q—Please advise whether or not it is advisable to decorate a new home when it is built.

A—Postpone the decoration of the new house until after it has had a chance to season. The walls may settle somewhat causing minor cracks in the plaster. Decorations put on afterwards may hide these defects.

Q—Our specifications state that the lot should be "graded." What does this mean exactly?

A—A general statement such as this would mean that the lot would be roughly leveled and sloped away from the building. When the specifications call for seeding or sodding, that would of course mean a finished job.

Q—Please advise what is the customary way to pay off the contractor as the building is erected and when the owner is supplying the money. What reduction is made for cash?

A—Houses are generally built for cash. Even though money is borrowed by the owner, he pays the builder at definite intervals as the house is built. The general arrangement is to pay 50 per cent of the cost of materials and labor supplied to the job during the previous 30 days. The final 15 per cent is paid 30 days after the house has been finished.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Let's go to see Hansel and Gretel," said Mister Muggs.

"Oh, yes, let's," cried Nancy and Ned. "I hope to suppose they will be living in a house of cake and bread, with sugar windows?"

"Well, I should think not," remarked the fireman. "After the mean way the old lady in the woods treated them when they were lost. She built herself a cake house just to get them to come that way. And when they got there she was horrid to them both. But the best way to find out all about it is to go and see. I'm sure Hansel and Gretel will be over so glad to see a little boy and girl like themselves."

So they all got into the nice little carriage and rode and rode past seven times seven duck ponds and seven times seven burynards, and came at last to a beautiful house.

And over the house it said, "Hansel and Gretel's house. Welcome!"

So the three travelers parked their car under an apple tree and went up the steps and tapped on the front door.

It flew open at once and out rushed the children.

"We are glad to see you," cried Hansel and Gretel. "Now we can play."

Just then a maid in a stiff starched cap and a stuff starched apron and stiff starched everything, came out and said, "Miss Gretel, you cannot play now. You must practice your house lesson and then do your sums, and then go for a walk in the park."

"After that your dancing master will be here to teach you some new steps. And then you must be fitted for some new dresses, and after that the woman is coming to—"

"Oh, bother!" cried Gretel. "I don't want to do these things. I want to play."

"You are rich now and your father says you must do as I say."

And a man who looked as though he had been dipped in stiff starch all over, came in and said to Hansel, "And you cannot play either, sir! You have even more things to do than Miss Gretel."

"But I don't want to do anything but play marbles," declared Hansel.

"I'd rather be poor and not have anything to eat, like the Twins when father was a poor wood-cutter. I wish we hadn't found the old woman's treasure and become so rich."

"So do I," said Gretel. "I'd rather be poor and wear rags again."

"A pretty little bit of fish!" said poor Mister Muggs, not knowing what else to say.

Suddenly right before their eyes the fine house melted away, and there stood a poor little cottage with a thatched roof. And yet the distance they could look the house was at. The poor woodcutter was at work again. Their riches had gone.

"The Fairy Queen must have heard you," said Mister Muggs. "You have your wish."

"And now, we'll be happy," cried the children. "Come on, Twins, and play."

CHILD'S STORY OF THE HUMAN RACE

Jugglers and Trained Animals
The art of the jugglers seems to be popular in all ages. You may remember the picture we showed of women juggling balls in ancient Egypt. Today you see a picture of a Roman juggler.

What is he doing? It appears that he is teaching a new trick to the monkey on the right. At the left you see a trained dog, climbing a ladder above the man's head are two rings which he uses when performing his tricks. Near one of his feet is a bowl used to juggle things "disappearing" and reappearing.

by jugglers and trained animals; there were many other attractions. Wrestling matches could be counted on to draw a crowd and there were, of course, the chariot races at the circus.

One curious sight the Romans viewed at one period was a young man less than two feet high. He is said to have weighed only 17 pounds, but he had a voice so loud it must have been credit to a giant. The loud voiced little fellow used to stand in the center of a large arena and tell the crowd what event was coming next!

Another ancient picture shows a boy trying to make a monkey go through some trick. The monkey is dressed in a coat. The boy is using a whip to frighten his pet.

Not only were the Romans amused

If you want some flowers to use for decorating at the May Fete, you may have all you want from our yard," offered Lillian, a very prim, quiet girl, who lived in the next block from Betty.

"What kind have you?" Betty asked, thinking here.

"Come over, and I'll show you," was the reply. Then Lillian took Betty out to a pretty little garden at the end of her back yard. There were tall purple iris in bloom and the bushes full of pansies scattered down by the gate was a lilac bush with lavender clusters of sweet-smelling flowers.

"These lilacs will be nice to use for the queen's crown," cried Betty. "Oh, I just can't wait for the May Fete!"

Lillian has golden curls. She wears a green gingham dress and carries a doll with a pink cap. Betty Cut-out forgot to tell us who is to be the May queen. Maybe we'll find out tomorrow.

"Most of the stuff printed about Jake Hanson are lies," Mrs. Kohrer said. "He was the most wonderful man in the world and never did a dishonest act in his life and it is a shame the way some newspapers and politicians in Washington have been treating him."

Declares He Was Too Honest for Oil Deal

By JAMES T. KOLBERT
Confidential Staff Correspondent.
CINCINNATI, Aug. 29.—The life of Jake Hamon, slain millionaire and politician cast off at the zenith of his wealth and power for a younger and prettier woman, has come to its end.

Gone is the bitterness; only pity for the man whose early struggles were shared, and anger at his detractors remain.

Says Hamon Honest.
In an exclusive interview with the United Press, Mrs. Georgia Hamon admitted said Jake was honest, and that while he secured the nomination of Warren G. Harding he did not enter the office of secretary of the treasury.

The real reason Al Jennings was sent to Africa was because they saw a moving picture deal on which Jennings can't get as much as he thought he'd get, and he said at first he'd get a chance to get back at them, he would do it.

"I'm going to kill him."

Mrs. Korher made a brief reference to Clara Smith Hamon whom Hamon left her. Clara shot and killed Hamon and was acquitted.

"I was a poor boy and when he got a lot of money he started sowing his wild oats," Mrs. Korher said. "Clara Smith always came to him; he never went to her."

Says Wilson Failed to Protect Reserves Oil

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, April 29.—The Wilson administration failed to protect fully the California naval oil reserves, Willard A. Cutler, geologist, charged before the senate oil committee today.

Before the republican administration came into office March 4, 1921, the government lost more than $3,000,000 worth of oil by failing to drill proper offset wells in the California reserves, Cutler said.

Adjoining Standard Oil wells drained out government oil from the reserves, he contended.

Port Arthur is called upon to give more thought to better music next week, when this city, in line with other places from Maine to California, celebrate Music Week.

For the past several years special programs have been presented by Port Arthur musicians during a week set apart as the city's Music Week, and this year a committee selected from members of the Port Arthur Musicians Club is arranging a series of musical events to be given next week.

Special music will be arranged for all church services in the city next Sunday, the schools will have musical programs each day, and clubs, individuals, music teachers and various other organizations are continuing to give Port Arthur music lovers programs every afternoon and evening next week.

In order to insure a city-wide response to their efforts for more and better music in Port Arthur, the Music Week committee has arranged that all concerts be free of charge, and the programs will cover wide ranges of appeal. All of the new schools, clubs, churches and the parks will be open to the public.

P-s-s-t! These Straw Hat Styles Show Just How You Will Look in Them

By M. J. ACKERMAN

NEW YORK, April 29.—I was hiking along the tony section of Madison Avenue with a couple of my friends—a businessman and a second-rate prizefighter and a printer, just ordinary guys like myself—when we lumped some of the new straw hats in one of the ritzy shops.

Not being a feature writer or any kind of highbrow like that, I have just ordinary friends. Well, anyway, one of the guys says, "Ain't those like the donkey's snout?" Can you picture the Willy boys that'll be wearing them this summer?

"Not so fast," I exclaim. "You'll be wearing one like 'em before Conner Khand opens and you'll never look like your manna's boy again."

And just to prove it, I took the bunch in the store and borrowed the hats to suit each fellow's mug and then photographed them. And here they are.

That one on the left is a Panama that costs 11 berries, the next one is a bandok and if you like it lay out ten iron men. The next two they call sailors, although sailors never wear 'em, and they were six dollars per in the classy shop. The last is the same as the first, only turned the other way and worn without a smile.

P. S.—The handsome fellow in the middle wasn't one of my roughneck friends. He's a professional clotheswearer, by name of George Croker.

Political Roundup On to Grab Power Balance at Waco Meet

Test of Strength for Neff Versus McAdoo Forces to Take Place on 'Delegates Policy' May 3

By HUGH NUGENT FITZGERALD

The News Staff Writer

Governor Neff has thundered his message in the ears of democrats as to why the forty delegates from Texas to the Madison Square Garden convention should be instructed as to principles or platform demands and untruncated as to candidates for the presidential nomination.

Most views should be well known by this time to the men and women of Texas who follow the flag of democracy. There is nothing vague about his proposition, nothing veiled about his program, and he has nothing to hide. He has told democrats everywhere that he has appeared that in the choice of a standard bearer the delegates from Texas should hold steadfast to the ideals of Texas in the naming of a national standard bearer.

His first move was a triumphal demonstration in favor of the Neff proposal. There an audience of twenty-five hundred vociferated its applause and drowned out the hecklers who interrupted the governor when he referred to the effects and the large fees of William Gibbs McAdoo.

Cato Sells Present

Hon. Cato Sells was present as a spectator but not as an applauder. Fort Worth is the present home of Mr. Sells. Fort Worth is the home of former Senator William A. Hanger. Mr. Hanger did not lead his presence to the joyous occasion. Fort Worth is a railway center and the big four railway employees are said to be committed to the cause of McAdoo.

They remember him most gratefully as director general of American railways and very many of these railway employees are for government ownership of railways.

Six weeks ago National Committee.

Mr. Thoma B. Love imparted the information to press representatives of his permanent retirement from active politics. Something must have happened that forced the man from Missouri to change his mind.

The four weeks he has been working like a beaver and now has taken the stump, as democratic brethren say, telling his fellow democrats why they should vote against the Neff proposal and for instructions for Mr. Adoo. Mr. Sells is just as busy in the Magic Valley.

There isn't a county seat in Texas that the professional politicians haven't been chased or wired or written to go home and bring up the delegates. Politics is a practical game, and an organized minority, a small minority at that, often sways the price away from a huge majority that is disorganized and doesn't resort to team work.

For fifty years the cities and towns of Texas have sent the delegates to the state convention in name delegates to the national convention. In some cases the delegates of the democratic voters lived in the country and women did not have the ballot.

The Farmers' Federal

In bygone years hundreds of precincts in the country districts for the choice of a president go by default. Farmers and live stock men are represented under the leadership of Mr. Adoo.

A change of play will take place on Sunday and Thursday, the election to go up at eight o'clock sharp. Mr. Ferguson has several plays lined up for the coming week to be announced later.

"WOMEN WHO GIVE"

There never has been a more thrilling story put on the screen than "Women Who Give," the photodramatic attraction at the Peoples theatre today. Adapted from "Cape Cod Folks," it is by far the finest and most exciting screen play Reginald Barker ever produced. A battle with a great sea monster, a realistic shipwreck, the wing of a light house, a woman's home and a ship dashed to pieces on the rocks are only a few of the thrills in this production.

Barbara Bedford, Robert Frazer, Renee Adoree, Frank Keenan and Joseph Dowling enact the more important roles.

The Genuine!

Here is the real horse laugh, Joe, trick horse of "Cape Cod Dick" Melnick of Hollywood, Calif., is demonstrating it. His master seconds with a cowboy "squeal grin."

Senate Probe Not In Good Faith, Says Hyde

Special to The News

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., April 29.—The republican party has completely fulfilled all pledges made to the people four years ago, Arthur M. Hyde, governor of Missouri declared here today in addressing the republican state convention. Hyde, instructed to vote for President Coolidge at the national convention, were expected to be chosen.

The governor deplored attempts to besmirch President Coolidge and the late President Harding the senatorial investigations were "not conducted in good faith."

He declared that in President Coolidge the republican party offered the leadership necessary to return the country to the "original fundamental conceptions upon which America was founded."

This week the roundup will take place. This week the big politicians who are practical, and the little politicians who follow the lead of the big politicians are expected to get in their four work.

On Saturday, the roundup will take place and the democrat who remains away from the precinct primary, either in city or county, will have no voice in the naming of a democratic candidate for the presidency than a jack rabbit on a western prairie will have in the naming of a successor to the late Charles C. Murphy as grand Sachem of Tammany Hall.

It is conceded by the practical politicians of America that there will be a long deadlock in the Madison Square Garden convention and that a dark horse will be named.

Now are the Texas delegates going to be in a position to assert in the naming of the dark horse candidate who has an even break with the republican nominee in the start and may be the next president of the United States?

Flapper Bandit To Have Sanity Test
